The Institutionalisation of Evaluation in Europe

- Enables an interdisciplinary audience to better understand the institutionalisation of evaluation in different national states as well as in different sectors
- An invaluable guide for staff commissioning evaluations or undertaking research on evaluations in international organisations, such as UN, OECD etc
- Accessibly written for politicians and administrative staff from political parties, administrations and public authorities

This book examines the progress of institutionalisation of evaluation in European countries from various perspectives. It describes both prior developments and current states of evaluation in 16 European countries and across the European Union (EU), focussing on three dimensions, namely the political, social and professional systems. These detailed country reports, which have been written by selected researchers and authors from each of the respective countries, lead to a concluding comparison and synthesis. This is the first of four volumes of the compendium The Institutionalisation of Evaluation to be followed by volumes on the Americas, Africa and Australasia. The overall aim is to provide an interdisciplinary audience with cross-country learning to enable them to better understand the institutionalisation of evaluation in different nations, world regions and different sectors. Reinhard Stockmann is Professor for Sociology at Saarland University, Germany. He is Founder and Director of the Center for Evaluation (CEval), Managing Director of two Master of Evaluation programs, Executive Editor of the German Journal of Evaluation (ZfEv) and Founding member of the German Society for Evaluation (DeGEval). He is an evaluation specialist in the field of development cooperation, education, vocational training, environmental policy and foreign cultural policy. Wolfgang Meyer is Assistant Professor at Saarland University, Germany and Adjunct Professor at [...]
